Paris, Oct. 30.—The spirit of Woodrow Wilson was summoned to preside over the closing session of the League of Nations council as that body wrote finis to a work of pacifism, its settlement of the Greco-Bulgar conflict.

Paying the memory of the dead president a unique tribute, President Briand placed the meeting under the "memorial presidency" of the man, who, in the same clock hall, had read out to the world the covenant of the League. Wilson died a broken man, his league spurned by his country.

But today, if spirits live, Woodrow Wilson saw his dreams come true, a border war settled by the pacific means through the instrument his brain evolved. Briand paid him hearty tribute as he invoked his spirit to take charge of the session. In was in a vein of deep satisfaction that Briand spoke. Within the span of a week the council had called upon Bulgaria and Greece to lay down their arms and to send their fighting men back to their home regions. This had been done.

Greeks who swept across the rim of Macedonia were again patrolling Grecian land and Bulgarian troops, pushed aside as the Greeks marched in, were back close to their own frontier. Refugees who had quit in terror were seeking out their homes anew. Some of them found no homes, only ruins battered by Greek shells.

But the council held its work was ended, and well ended.

So it adjourned to meet again in Geneva about two months hence. At that time a commission will have determined the origin and responsibility for the border clashes and will be able to say what punishment or reparations if any shall be meted.

And the council hopes too to be able to create a Balkan pact, like the Locarno arrangement, which shall help to bring the Balkans the peace which today's "memorial president" wished for this earth.

FROM STEPHENSON

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 30.—(UP)—A hint of attempted extortion of hush money entered the Madge Oberholzer murder trial today.

Eph Inman, attorney for D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan grand dragon, intimated the girl was forced to sign her dying statement and an effort was made to collect $100,000 on it from Stephenson.

The former Klan leader and Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, his henchmen, are charged with first degree murder for her death.

Intimation of blackmail was made during cross examination of Asa Smith, attorney for the Oberholzer family, who prepared the dying statement. Inman asked Smith if he did not go to Stephenson's office to extract money from him.

"Didn't Stephenson tell you that experts had attempted to blackmail him and an amateur couldn't get away with it?" Inman asked.

The state objected to both questions but the objections were overruled and Smith answered "no" to both.

Prosecutor Remy then offered the dying statement of Miss Oberholzer as evidence. The statement accuses Stephenson of abducting her from her home here, forcing her to accompany him on a train to Hammond, and assaulting her on the train.

Inman asked Smith if he did not go to Stephenson's office with the evidence obtained in the dying statement of Miss Oberholzer and demand $100,000.

With this reoccupation, the original status was restored and the military border incident was deemed closed, at least from a military standpoint.

The mission stated that the evacuation of invaders was complete and both the Bulgars and Greek armies had been reinstated in their old positions on their own territories.

They had also exchanged the prisoners who had been taken during the recent clashes.

CONSERVATIVES OF CANADA WIN
OVER LIBERALS

Montreal, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The conservative party of Canada led by Arthur Meighen, has overthrown the liberal government of McKenzie King, Canadian premier, returns today from yesterday's general elections showed. The conservatives have won about 120 seats. A total of 123 is necessary to give them a clear majority in parliament. It is generally conceded that with the help of a few independents' and progressives' votes Meighen can form a ministry.

The new government will have a high protective tariff and prosperity for Canada as the keynote of its policy.

Returns available show that out of 245 seats, the conservatives have won 119, the liberals 97, progressives 20 and independents four. There was an increase in the number of seats this election from 235 in the last house when the liberals had 117 seats, the conservatives 49 and the progressives 61, with labor and independents occupying two seats and four vacancies.

With Premier King fell seven of his cabinet members.

The conservatives are pledged to high tariffs and one commodity that will be hit hard is pulp wood, which with other raw materials, the conservatives claim, should be manufactured into the finished article, paper products in Canada, giving employment to thousands of Canadian workmen now idle.

The fact that the progressives of the western provinces secured but 20 seats as compared with 61 in the last house, indicates that the farmer movement is losing its hold on the provinces from Manitoba west. This group in the house will wield a strong hand, as both parties are in need of their support. A few supporters from the progressive ranks would put Meighen in a strong position, but the progressives of other years were at strong variance with Meighen's tariff policies.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 30.—(UP)—The motor fishing schooner Bowser was overturned by a huge wave on to the sand spit of Gray's Harbor today and all of the crew of seven was lost, according to a radio message intercepted by the harbor station here.

Hoquiam, Wash., Oct. 30.—A wireless from the government dredge Cuibarra, stationed at the entrance of Gray's Harbor, stated that it was believed only two men were drowned when the fishing schooner Bowser capsized on the bar this morning.

MITCHELL, IF CONVICTED, TO APPEAL CASESTORMY SESSION OF COURT MAR-
TIAL WAS HELD YESTER-
DAYREVEALS PRESIDENT AS ACCUS-
ER AND ALSO COURT OF
LAST RESORT

By WILLIAM J. McEVROY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 30.—If Colonel William Mitchell is convicted, his case may be carried to the United States court of claims and the United States supreme court.

Representative Frank Reid, republican, Illinois, chief counsel for the flying colonel, disclosed this possibility today after yesterday's stormy session of the Mitchell court martial revealed President Coolidge to be at once the accuser of Mitchell and his court of last resort.

The legality of the procedure would be tested in a suit brought in the court of claims for Mitchell's pay from the time he was dismissed from the service.

"It is unfair for the military ritual to be cast idly aside to try this case," said Reid today. "After that decision by the court which held the trial's procedure legal, because it was called by the president, the war department might just as well use its books on military law and regulations for paper-weights."

At the same time Reid indicated that the alleged irregular procedure of the war department in bringing Mitchell to trial would be the subject of discussion in congress next winter.

GENERAL PLEA OF
NOT GUILTY ENTERED

Washington, Oct. 30.—A general plea of "not guilty" was entered today by Colonel William Mitchell on all charges of official misconduct for which he is being tried by an army court martial here.

The plea was made after the last effort of Mitchell's counsel to obtain a bill of particulars specifying what parts of the flying colonel's San Antonio statements constituted misconduct failed, through denial by the court.

Mitchell stood in his place at the defense table in the dark trial room with Representative Reid, of Illinois, his counsel, at his side, while Colonel Sherman Moreland, trial judge advocate, read the charges, one by one. Mitchell in a clear voice and emphatic tone answered to each "not guilty."

A full house was on hand for the opening of proceedings today.

Prominent among those in the crowded public section was Representative Florian Lampert, Wisconsin, chairman of the house aircraft committee.

The pleading was followed by a brief session and the court martial then was adjourned by Major General Robert L. Howse, president, until 10 A. M. Monday to afford both the prosecution and the defense an opportunity to examine and prepare witnesses.

After the adjournment Reid indicated that the defense might demand that President Coolidge and Secretary of War Davis be summoned to testify.

Pointing out that it was developed yesterday that the president and Davis were the "accusers" of Mitchell, Reid said his client should be granted the privilege of facing them.

"The whole question," Reid said, "is somewhat up in the air and I have not yet decided on the feasibility of calling them."

Some doubt existed as to whether either the president or secretary of war was liable to a summons.

After Mitchell had entered his plea, Reid sarcastically objected to proceeding with the trial in accordance with the army manual.

"Under the ruling made by this court yesterday," said Reid, "the proper procedure has been cast aside in this case."

Colonel Blanton Winship, law member of the court, overruled Reid's objection and the actual trial was on.

Another wrangle developed when Colonel Moreland for the prosecution started reading the paragraph of the manual for court martial but Winship ordered the prosecutor to proceed.

When Moreland completed his reading, Reid demanded an opportunity to examine the three newspapermen summoned by the prosecution from Texas to whom Mitchell issued his statement.

Moreland agreed, saying he also wanted to examine them and asked for a recess until tomorrow.

Reid, however, asked for an adjournment until Monday and with the concurrence of Moreland, General Howse so ordered it.

HUNT PROCEEDS
IN ST. PAUL FOR LOST RADIUM

Minneapolis, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Plans for construction of an instrument to rescue the $5,000 pellet of radium somewhere in St. Paul's sewer system, were laid today while the electroscope, designed to locate the precious pinhead, continued its search.

"Electroscope," said Professor H. A. Erikson, "will be able to scent the radium when it comes within 75 feet of it. Then we will build another model to lead us directly to it."

Thus far the search of the mechanical bloodhound has been hindered by difficulty of determining the distance through water that the device can detect radium. Tests are to be conducted at the university swimming pool.

Buffalo, N. After the wound was dressed the patient quickly re-entered an automobile which was waiting at the curb and disappeared.

The death of Guard Yarrington during the night brought the death toll to two. John B. Myers, the third man shot, will recover although his left forearm has been amputated. By FRANK GETTY

New York, Oct. 30.—Lacking for the moment confirmation from either of the principals an apparently authentic report was circulated today to the effect that Mrs. Agnes U. Stillman had begun action to obtain a divorce from her banker husband, James A. Stillman, on statutory charges.

Lawyers representing both Mr. and Mrs. Stillman would not deny that the latter had caused a summons and complaint in a divorce action to be served on her husband last night.

News of Mrs. Stillman's reported action came as a tremendous surprise to her friends.

Since the former president of the National City bank first began action to free himself from his wife, the former "Fifi" Potter, more than five years ago, Mrs. Stillman has been contesting litigation that has cost Stillman a small fortune. She won at every turn, her submission of evidence concerning the banker's alleged relations with "Flo" Leeds successfully defeating the original divorce action.

It had been understood that Mrs. Stillman never would consent to a divorce. Now she is reported to be planning to use the testimony regarding Mrs. Leeds to obtain freedom from her husband.

Mrs. Stillman was understood to be at Grand Anse, Que., far removed from telephone communication with the outside world.

Stillman was not at his New York residence. He is understood to have entered an answer to his wife's complaint, containing the usual blanket denials of the allegations set up.

GRAND JURY A SENSATION-
AL STORY

St. Paul, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The campaign of Ramsey county officials against an alleged St. Paul arson ring was under way today with indictments issued against Herman Korsch and James Pappas. Both are accused of burning their stores.

The grand jury returned the indictments yesterday on evidence given by Joseph Arver, who is serving a seven year penitentiary sentence at Stillwater for arson. Arver told the jury a sensational story of incendiary activities in the Twin Cities and Chicago.

The fires were set for a double purpose, Arver said. The proprietors collected the insurance and he received the adjuster's fee. He said the Arver fire was the only one he engineered personally although he had planned several others. The two fires for which Korsch and Pappas were indicted occurred in 1923.

Arver was sentenced in 1924 for his part in firing the restaurant of John Lambros. It is said he will continue his revelations to the jury and other indictments are expected. Meanwhile St. Paul organizations are taking steps to increase the city's fire protection.

Minneapolis, Oct. 30.—(UP)—University officials today denied the charges that there was "disgraceful drinking" in Minneapolis after the Notre Dame-Minnesota football game last Saturday. At the same time President L. D. Coffman said he would see to it that students conduct themselves properly after the Minnesota-Wisconsin game tomorrow.

Frank A. Day, publisher of a newspaper at Fairmont, published an editorial saying he had been informed spectators had "never seen so much drinking as in Minneapolis after the game." He sent copies of it to President Coffman, Governor Christianson, Mayor Leach of Minneapolis and Sheriff Earle Brown of Hennepin county.

President Coffman said he had heard nothing of the alleged orgies after the game, and Sheriff Brown said it was the first time he had heard of any misconduct after the game.

Charges an effort was made to collect $1000,000 on it from Stephenson

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 30.—(UP)—A hint of attempted extortion of hush money entered the Madge Oberholzer murder trial today.

Eph Imman, attorney for D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan grand dragon, intimidated the girl was forced to sign her dying statement and an effort was made to collect $100,000 on it from Stephenson.

The former Klan leader and Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, his henchmen, are charged with first degree murder for her death.

Intimation of blackmail was made during cross examination of Asa Smith, attorney for the Oberholzer family, who prepared the dying statement. Imman asked Smith if he did not go to Stephenson's office with the statement and attempt to extract money from him.

"Didn't Stephenson tell you that experts had attempted to blackmail him and an amateur couldn't get away with it?" Imman asked.

The state objected to both questions but the objections were overruled and Smith answered "no" to both.

Prosecutor Remy then offered the dying statement of Miss Oberholzer as evidence. The statement accuses Stephenson of abducting her from her home here, forcing her to accompany him on a train to Hammond, and assaulting her on the train.

Imman asked Smith if he did not go to Stephenson's office with the evidence obtained in the dying statement of Miss Oberholzer and demand $100,000.

"Mr. Oberholzer employed me to sue or do anything proper but I didn't make the money demands," said Smith.

"Didn't you go back and ask $50,000, then $25,000 and finally offer to settle for $10,000," Imman again asked.

Smith, glaring back at Imman, replied "no" to each question.

St. Catherine's, Ont., Oct. 30.—(UP)—The Norwegian tramp Anders, which is reported as being 20 hours overdue at Cleveland, Ohio, left port Colborne, Ont., last night at 7:35 and could not arrive at Cleveland before today a distance of over 100 miles.

30 years in jail for assaulting girl

Fairmont, Minn., Oct. 30.—(UP)—William Brunner, 26, was yesterday sentenced to a term in Stillwater penitentiary not to exceed 30 years for assaulting a 10 year old girl. He was found guilty Tuesday.

Meat market of Little Falls packing co. is destroyed

Little Falls, Minn., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Hampered by a four degree temperature, firemen were unable to save the meat market of the Little Falls Packing Company when flames were discovered in the building early today. Loss is estimated at $20,000. Adjoining buildings in the business district were unharmed, although threatened for three hours. Defective wiring is thought to have caused the fire.

Motor fishing schooner overturns and crew drowned

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 30.—(UP)—The motor fishing schooner Bowser was overturned by a huge wave on to the sand spit of Gray's Harbor today and all of the crew of seven was lost, according to a radio message intercepted by the harbor station here.

A dredge and other vessels in the vicinity stood by until all hope of rescuing the crew was lost, the message said.

The wreck is now floating bottom side up but vessels, by keeping in line with the ranges, will be able to steer clear of the derelict.

Hogslam, Wash., Oct. 30.—A wireless from the government dredge Cuelbra, stationed at the entrance of Gray's Harbor, stated that it was believed only two men were drowned when the fishing schooner Bowser capsized on the bar this morning.

CONSERVATIVES OF CANADA WIN OVER LIBERALS

Montreal, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The conservative party of Canada, led by Arthur Meighen, has overthrown the liberal government of McKenzie King, Canadian premier, returns today from yesterday's general elections showed. The conservatives have won about 120 seats. A total of 123 is necessary to give them a clear majority in parliament. It is generally conceded that with the help of a few independents' and progressives' votes Meighen can form a ministry.

The new government will have a high protective tariff and prosperity for Canada as the keynote of its policy.

Returns available show that out of 245 seats, the conservatives have won 119, the liberals 97, progressives 20 and independents four. There was an increase in the number of seats this election from 235 in the last house when the liberals had 117 seats, the conservatives 49 and the progressives 61, with labor and independents occupying two seats and four vacancies.

With Premier King fell seven of his cabinet members.

The conservatives are pledged to high tariffs and one commodity that will be hit hard is pulp wood, which with other raw materials, the conservatives claim, should be manufactured into the finished article, paper products in Canada, giving employment to thousands of Canadian workmen now idle.

The fact that the progressives of the western provinces secured but 20 seats as compared with 61 in the last house, indicates that the farmer movement is losing its hold on the provinces from Manitoba west. This group in the house will wield a strong hand, as both parties are in need of their support. A few supporters from the progressive ranks would put Meighen in a strong position, but the progressives of other years were at strong variance with Meighen's tariff policies.

Verdict of $720,000 damages for breaking of a lease, given

New York, Oct. 30.—(UP)—A jury before Supreme court Justice Edward Glennon yesterday returned a verdict of $720,000 in favor of Edward J. Bondy, against Albert J. Harvey, Milwaukee, Wis., and George A. Harvey, Cleveland brothers.

The two Harveys are real estate operators under the firm name of Harvey Brothers. The action was brought for breach of contract, and the trial has run for 10 days.

It was charged that the Harvey Brothers refused to deliver a lease of certain property in Milwaukee on which Bondy was to erect a theatre.

A full house was on hand for the opening of proceedings today.

Prominent among those in the crowded public section was Representative Florian Lampert, Wisconsin, chairman of the house aircraft committee.

The pleading was followed by a brief session and the court martial then was adjourned by Major General Robert L. Howse, president, until 10 A. M. Monday to afford both the prosecution and the defense an opportunity to examine and prepare witnesses.

After the adjournment Reid indicated that the defense might demand that President Coolidge and Secretary of War Davis be summoned to testify.

Pointing out that it was developed yesterday that the president and Davis were the "accusers" of Mitchell, Reid said his client should be granted the privilege of facing them.

"The whole question," Reid said, "is somewhat up in the air and I have not yet decided on the feasibility of calling them."

Some doubt existed as to whether either the president or secretary of war was liable to a summons.

After Mitchell had entered his plea, Reid sarcastically objected to proceeding with the trial in accordance with the army manual.

"Under the ruling made by this court yesterday," said Reid, "the proper procedure has been cast aside in this case."

Colonel Blanton Winship, law member of the court, overruled Reid's objection and the actual trial was on.

Another wrangle developed when Colonel Moreland for the prosecution started reading the paragraph of the manual for court martial but Winship ordered the prosecutor to proceed.

When Moreland completed his reading, Reid demanded an opportunity to examine the three newspapermen summoned by the prosecution from Texas to whom Mitchell issued his statement.

Moreland agreed, saying he also wanted to examine them and asked for a recess until tomorrow.

Reid, however, asked for an adjournment until Monday and with the concurrence of Moreland, General Howse so ordered it.

MITCHELL, IF CONVICTED, TO APPEAL CASE

STORMY SESSION OF COURT MAR-
TIAL WAS HELD YESTER-DAY

REVEALS PRESIDENT AS ACCUS-
ER AND ALSO COURT OF
LAST RESORT

By WILLIAM J. McVOY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 30.—If Colonel William Mitchell is convicted, his case may be carried to the United States court of claims and the United States supreme court.

Representative Frank Reid, republican, Illinois, chief counsel for the flying colonel, disclosed this possibility today after yesterday's stormy session of the Mitchell court martial revealed President Coolidge to be at once the accuser of Mitchell and his court of last resort.

The legality of the procedure would be tested in a suit brought in the court of claims for Mitchell's pay from the time he was dismissed from the service.

"It is unfair for the military ritual to be cast idly aside to try this case," said Reid today. "After that decision by the court which held the trial's procedure legal, because it was called by the president, the war department might just as well use its books on military law and regulations for paper-weights."

At the same time Reid indicated that the alleged irregular procedure of the war department in bringing Mitchell to trial would be the subject of discussion in congress next winter.

GENERAL PLEA OF
NOT GUILTY ENTERED

Washington, Oct. 30.—A general plea of "not guilty" was entered today by Colonel William Mitchell on all charges of official misconduct for which he is being tried by an army court martial here.

The plea was made after the last effort of Mitchell's counsel to obtain a bill of particulars specifying what parts of the flying colonel's San Antonio statements constituted misconduct failed, through denial by the court.

Mitchell stood in his place at the defense table in the dark trial room with Representative Reid, of Illinois, his counsel, at his side, while Colonel Sherman Moreland, trial judge advocate, read the charges, one by one.

Mitchell in a clear voice and emphatic tone answered to each "not guilty."

A full house was on hand for the opening of proceedings today.

Prominent among those in the crowded public section was Representative Florian Lampert, Wisconsin, chairman of the house aircraft committee.

The pleading was followed by a brief session and the court martial then was adjourned by Major General Robert L. Howse, president, until 10 A. M. Monday to afford both the prosecution and the defense an opportunity to examine and prepare witnesses.

HUNT PROCEEDS IN ST. PAUL FOR LOST RADIUM

Minneapolis, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Plans for construction of an instrument to rescue the $8,000 pellet of radium somewhere in St. Paul's sewer system, were laid today while the electroscope, designed to locate the precious pinhead, continued its search.

"Electroscope," said Professor H. A. Erikson, "will be able to scent the radium when it comes within 75 feet of it. Then we will build another model to lead us directly to it."

Thus far the search of the mechanical bloodhound has been hindered by difficulty of determining the distance through water that the device can detect radium.

Tests are to be conducted at the university swimming pool.

Buffalo is aroused over bank robbery

Police seek vainly for bandits who stole $100,000

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Officers on the lookout for the bank robbers who held up the treasure car of the Bank of Buffalo and escaped with between $90,000 and $100,000, were aroused into renewed action today when a hospital reported a young man with a bullet wound in his head had applied for medical attention. After the wound was dressed the patient quickly re-entered an automobile which was waiting at the curb and disappeared.

The death of Guard Yarrington during the night brought the death toll to two. John B. Myers, the third man shot, will recover although his left forearm has been amputated.

Shocked by the Bank of Buffalo holdup, Buffalo clearing house officials today established a permanent fund of $10,000 to pay rewards for the capture of bandits dead or alive participating in future bank robberies.

Report current Mrs. Stillman seeks a divorce

Asserted summons and complaint in action served

Alleged divorce is sought from Stillman on statutory grounds

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 30.—Lacking for the moment confirmation from either of the principals an apparently authentic report was circulated today to the effect that Mrs. Agnes U. Stillman had begun action to obtain a divorce from her banker husband, James A. Stillman, on statutory charges.

Lawyers representing both Mr. and Mrs. Stillman would not deny that the latter had caused a summons and complaint in a divorce action to be served on her husband last night.

News of Mrs. Stillman's reported action came as a tremendous surprise to her friends.

Since the former president of the National City bank first began action to free himself from his wife, the former "Fifi" Potter, more than five years ago, Mrs. Stillman has been contesting litigation that has cost Stillman a small fortune. She won at every turn, her submission of evidence concerning the banker's alleged relations with "Flo" Leeds successfully defeating the original divorce action.

It had been understood that Mrs. Stillman never would consent to a divorce. Now she is reported to be planning to use the testimony regarding Mrs. Leeds to obtain freedom from her husband.

Mrs. Stillman was understood to be at Grand Anse, Que., far removed from telephone communication with the outside world.

Stillman was not at his New York residence. He is understood to have entered an answer to his wife's complaint, containing the usual blanket denials of the allegations set up.

INDICTMENTS ISSUED AGAINST 2 ST. PAUL MEN

HERMAN KORSCH AND JAMES
PAPPAS ACCUSED OF BURN-ING STORES

JOSEPH ARVER TELLS THE
GRAND JURY A SENSATION-
AL STORY

St. Paul, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The campaign of Ramsey county officials against an alleged St. Paul arson ring was under way today with indictments issued against Herman Korsch and James Pappas. Both are accused of burning their stores.

The grand jury returned the indictments yesterday on evidence given by Joseph Arver, who is serving a seven year penitentiary sentence at Stillwater for arson. Arver told the jury a sensational story of incendiary activities in the Twin Cities and Chicago.

The fires were set for a double purpose, Arver said. The proprietors collected the insurance and he received the adjuster's fee. He said the Arver fire was the only one he engineered personally although he had planned several others. The two fires for which Korsch and Pappas were indicted occurred in 1923.

Arver was sentenced in 1924 for his part in firing the restaurant of John Lambros. It is said he will continue his revelations to the jury and other indictments are expected. Meanwhile St. Paul organizations are taking steps to increase the city's fire protection.

Frank Day makes charges

Says there was "disgraceful drinking" after football game

Minneapolis, Oct. 30.—(UP)—University officials today denied the charges that there was "disgraceful drinking" in Minneapolis after the Notre Dame-Minnesota football game last Saturday. At the same time President L. D. Coffman said he would sue to it that students conduct themselves properly after the Minnesota-Wisconsin game tomorrow.

Frank A. Day, publisher of a newspaper at Fairmont, published an editorial saying he had been informed spectators had "never seen so much drinking as in Minneapolis after the game." He sent copies of it to

"Necessary Evil." With Ben Lyon and Viola Dana. Scores Big Hit

Now and again as a spectator sits in the emotional grip of a stirring drama, the conviction dawns that behind his action and clash of forces the artist has concealed a message—a serious life problem which, through fear of detracting from the dramatic interest, has been deliberately half concealed.

Such a drama is "The Necessary Evil," the latest First National feature which at the Lyceum last night with Ben Lyon and Viola Dana in co-featured roles and is showing again tonight.

AMUSEMENTS

"Necessary Evil," With Ben Lyon and Viola Dana, Scores Big Hit

Now and again as a spectator sits in the emotional grip of a stirring drama, the conviction dawns that behind his action and clash of forces the artist has concealed a message—a serious life problem which, through fear of detracting from the dramatic interest, has been deliberately half concealed.

Such a drama is "The Necessary Evil," the latest First National feature which at the Lyceum last night with Ben Lyon and Viola Dana in co-featured roles and is showing again tonight.

Augler Bros. Present Broadway Successes

With the best series of Broadway hits that have ever been presented, the Augler Bros. Stock Company will play a week's engagement at the New Park theatre starting Monday, Nov. 2. Geo. M. Cohan, noted comedian, author and actor was the producer of "So This Is London," their opening play. This is an amusing comedy, contrasting the views Americans hold of English people and the views held by the Britons of us. A romance between an English girl and an American boy, with the parents of both determined to suppress it, is the basis of the plot. "So This Is London," ran an entire season in New York and is one of the most successful comedies of the last ten years.

Players and Cameramen Risk Lives Filming Mad Rush of 5,000 Wild Horses for "Wild Horse Mesa"

Film fans, you who rave about the sensational pictures you have seen, you who have witnessed the screen's mightiest thrills, you who have enjoyed the dynamic action of epic westerns, see "Wild Horse Mesa" at the New Park tonight and you'll have something to brag about!

For stupendous action, for spectacular thrills and for the most gasp-provoking climax ever flashed on the silver sheet, this Paramount melodrama, which George B. Seitz produced from Lucien Hubbard's adaptation of Zane Grey's gripping novel, has them all beat!

Fred Thomson at Lyceum Saturday
Featuring a battle between a wild bull and the hero in which the latter overcomes the infuriated animal, Fred Thomson's latest picture is generally acclaimed as the best and the most unusual he has ever made. It is a unique story with a supernatural element in it not easy to catch with the camera; but the spirit of unearthly fear which broods over the cattle country because of the supposition that "The Wild Bull's Lair," is haunted. Shown at the Lyceum theatre Saturday.

CHAMBER COMMERCE SPIRITED SESSION

Fall and Winter Season Opened With an Excellent Supper Served

BUSINESS MEETING FOLLOWED

New Athletic Park Brought to Successful Conclusion by Chairman J. P. Anderson

The Chamber of Commerce held one of the most successful meetings in recent years on Wednesday evening, a large number of business men and others interested in the work of the organization being present.

The business session, the first of the fall and winter season, was preceded by an excellent supper, served in the parlors of the Chamber by Frank G. Hall and his house committee. The dishes were prepared by the Garvey restaurant, everything on the following menu being "done to a brown turn":

Roast beef, brown gravy
Mashed potatoes, mashed squash
Cabbage salad, Parker house rolls
Apple pie, Coffee

There was much business to be transacted at the meeting which followed the supper, for numerous matters had accumulated since the last meeting early in the summer. Several projects were started and pushed through to a successful completion during the past three months, which showed that the Chamber has not been dormant even though no regular meetings were held.

One of these important activities was the improvement of the city's new Athletic park, just south of the Northeast Brainerd hill. These improvements include the filling, draining, and grading of the park, and the erection of an excellent grandstand having a seating capacity of about 1,000.

J. P. Anderson, chairman of the Chamber's special committee in charge of the Athletic park, made an interesting report at Wednesday's meeting, in which he stated that all of the above work had been done, and the grandstand completed, with the exception of a roof, at no small expense, but that there have been sufficient funds collected and pledged to cover all of this expense.

It was reported that the cost of putting a slate roof upon the grandstand would be about $537, and that there are $427 on hand now which could be used for this purpose if it is so decided. This cash on hand is money turned over by the Crow Wing Game Protective Association and the Chamber of Commerce, and is the money received from contributions that were to be used in starting a fish hatchery near Brainerd. That project was found impractical and the organizations that had sojected and collected the cash voted to turn it over to the use of the athletic park committee, provided the donors agreed to such a transfer.

Henry I. Cohen reported that his committee had collected $600 from local business firms and resort owners which was used in a publicity project that has brought excellent results. A section of the Midwest Bulletin, published in Kansas City, Mo., was devoted to advertising the Brainerd lake region, and had been the means of interesting many in this resort country. Mr. Cohen stated that resort owners locally are very enthusiastic about the publicity they received, and it is hoped to repeat the good work again next season on (Continued on page 8)

BURNING BOX CAR

Shop Whistles Sounded Alarm Late Thursday Evening, Fire Quickly Extinguished

Brainerd people were roused late Thursday evening by the blowing of the shop whistles, warning of a fire there.

The alarm was caused by a burning box car, which was switched to the further end of the shop yards where the fire would not endanger railway property, and there the blaze was extinguished without further damage being done.

The car was an old one, and took fire where it had been sidetracked with others that are to be dismantled, having outlived their usefulness.

The shop fire department easily handled the situation, and put out the blaze without calling for the assistance of the city department.

INHERITANCE TAXES IN COURTS

WHEN John I. Beggs of Milwaukee died and left an estate of $30,000,000 he unwillingly, as it may be, set in motion the fight of three great commonwealths concerned over the inheritance taxes applying to such estate.

The will is now claimed for probate in three states, Wisconsin where Mr. Beggs died and had many interests, Missouri where he also had interests, and Florida where a residence was claimed.

The legal conflict will bring into the limelight the provision of Florida which claims no state inheritance tax of its residents.

Following his return from Chicago, where he conferred with Attorney General Herman L. Ekers of Wisconsin, District Attorney Eugene Wengert declared Wisconsin will take immediate legal action in the case.

Missouri has not been sleeping on whatever rights it claims, and the will has been claimed for probate by Public Administrator Terry of St. Louis county, Missouri.

Florida has gone a step ahead of the other two states by admitting the will to probate in St. Lucie county, as stated by Judge Angus Sumner. It is believed that virtually the entire estate has been bequeathed in trust to Beggs' three grandchildren, his daughter and his son-in-law of St. Louis, Mo.

While these three states have brought the state inheritance taxes to public notice and attention is centering on the Florida provision absolving estates from state tax, the house ways and means committee is discussing federal inheritance taxes and proposed changes sought to reduce the same.

It will also bring to the front the curious situation that a very rich man may have so many interests, so many homes and headquarters that it may take a Philadelphia lawyer to definitely establish a man's home or real center for taxation. The cases brought by the three states will thresh out this question and bring to light a method of taxation equitable to all in the trio of states concerned.

UPPER RIVER NAVIGATION

BRAINERD and the Cuyuna iron range at one time had a taste of supplying material for upper river navigation. It was in the days of the World War. It comes to mind when one reads that the United States Supreme Court recently granted Edward F. Goltra, of St. Louis, review of an injunction proceeding by which he sought to restrain the Secretary of War and other United States officials from taking possession of a fleet of four tow boats and 19 barges leased by the government to Goltra after the war. Secretary Weeks, according to United Press news reports, in terminating the contract, advised Goltra he had not complied with the terms of the contract.

And that brings us to the Brainerd angle in Goltra's efforts at gaining cargoes. In June, 1917, Mr. Goltra visited our city, coming here from St. Louis in his private car. He was then Democratic National Committeeman from Missouri. He was also president and manager of the Mississippi Valley Iron Company operating a blast furnace in St. Louis. In company with Carl Zapffe he visited the Cuyuna iron range.

His purpose in coming here was to investigate iron ore resources of the Cuyuna district and to develop the Mississippi river transportation. Because of his influence in political circles, he succeeded in having the United States government, through the War Department, build some specially designed barges and tow boats which the government agreed to lease to Goltra.

Goltra bought a small tonnage of Cuyuna ore, shipped it over the Northern Pacific railway to St. Paul where it was dumped through a temporary arrangement at a bridge at the South St. Paul stockyards into barges that were used in an experimental way at that time and then had the ore towed to St. Louis.

THE Spokane Spokesman-Review gives this as an example of "thin" knowledge. Required to tell what he knows about Isaac Newton, the average person would reply that Sir Isaac was sitting under the old apple tree at Appomattox composing Paradise Lost, when an apple fell from the tree and hit him on the head. He jumped up, crying Eureka! and immediately invented the steam engine.

"BOOK WEEK" has been set for November 8 to 14. It is to stimulate a wider interest in books and reading. It ought to carry the old injunction too, "Bring back what you borrowed." Nearly every library, public or private, has suffered in having books borrowed that have never been returned.

SECRETARY JARDINE, of the Department of Agriculture, said: "I stand squarely on the general principle that farmers' organizations must have equal privileges on markets or boards of trade with other marketing agencies."

PAUL WHITMAN, the orchestra leader, was once a taxicab driver. That explains why he has such a superb knowledge of time or tempo.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY TO PROBE AUTO DEATHS

DULUTH AROUSED OVER NUMBER OF FATALITIES CAUSED

SINCE JANUARY 1, 16 PEOPLE KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Duluth, Oct. 30.—(UP)—A special grand jury will soon probe numerous automobile fatalities of the past few months.

Since January 1, 16 persons have been killed in automobile accidents and coroners' juries have exonerated the drivers in each instance. County Attorney Mason M. Forbes has selected four cases to be presented to the grand jury for investigation.

Judge E. J. Kenny late Thursday authorized the special grand jury session. Cases to be investigated are those involving the deaths of Arthur Vallancourt, 55; Pearl Fraser, school girl; Ernest J. Cooke and Tom Juntinen.

Vallancourt died September 19, from injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile driven by Thomas Moe, 18. The Fraser girl was killed September 23, by a car driven by E. W. Bishop. Cooke died October 23, a week after being struck by a car driven by G. D. Smith and Juntinen was killed on October 19 by a car driven by Erick F. Norberg.

Today a coroner's jury is conducting an inquest over the remains of Mrs. Alice Warren, struck and killed Wednesday night by an automobile driven by Henry Jensen, a chauffeur. The grand jury may also probe this case.

Phillips' eyes were dim with desire, he was ablaze with yearning; in a voice that shooed he said: "Don't tell me anything. I won't hear it!" Then, after a brief struggle with himself, he continued, more evenly: "That ought to prove to you that I'm grown up. I couldn't have said it three months ago, but I've stepped out of the nursery into a world of big things and big people, and I want you. I dare say you've lived—a woman like you must have had many experiences, many obstacles to overcome; but—I might not understand what they were even if you told me, for I'm pretty green. Anyhow, I'm sure you're good. I would not believe you if you told me you weren't. It's no credit to me that I haven't confessions of my own to make, for I'm like other men and it merely so happens that I've had no chance to—soil myself. The credit is due to circumstance."

"Everything is due to circumstance," the woman said. "Our lives are haphazard affairs; we're blown by chance."

"We'll take a new start tomorrow and bury the past, whatever it is." "You make it absolutely necessary for me to speak," the Countess told him. Her tone again had a touch of weariness in it, but Pierce did not see this. "I knew I'd have to, sooner or later, but it was nice to drift and to dream—oh, it was pleasant—so I bit down on my tongue and I listened to nothing but the song in my heart." She favored Pierce with that shadowy, luminous smile he had come to know. "It was a clean, sweet song and it meant a great deal to me." When he undertook to caress her she drew away, then sat forward with her heels tucked close into the pine boughs, her chin upon her knees. It was her favorite attitude of meditation; wrapped thus in the embrace of her own arms, she appeared to gain the strength and the determination necessary to carry on.

"I'm not a weak woman," she began, staring at the naked candle-flame which gave light to the tent. "It wasn't weakness that impelled me to marry a man I didn't love; it was the determination to get ahead and the ambition to make something worth while out of myself—a form of selfishness, perhaps, but I tell you all women are selfish. Anyhow, he seemed to promise better things and to open a way where by I could make something out of my life. Instead of that he opened my eyes and showed me the world as it is, not as I had imagined it to be. He was—no good. You may think I was unhappy over that, but I wasn't! Really, he didn't mean much to me. What did grieve me, though, was that death of my illusions. He was mercenary—the fault of his training, I dare say—but he had that man-call I spoke about. It's really a woman-call. He was weak, worthless, full of faults, mean in small things, but he had an attraction and it was impossible to resist mothering him. Other women felt it and yielded to it, so finally we went our separate ways. I've seen nothing of him for some time now, but he keeps in touch with me and—I've sent him a good deal of money. When he learns that I have prospered in a big way he'll undoubtedly turn up again."

Phillips recoiled; his face whitened. "Dismay, reproach, a shocked surprise were in the look he turned upon his companion."

"Still married!" he gasped. "Oh—Hilda!"

She nodded and lowered her eyes. "I supposed you knew—until I got to telling you, and then it was too late."

Pierce rose; his lips now were as colorless as his cheeks. "I'm surprised, hurt," he managed to say.

"How should I know? Why, this is wretched—rotten! People will say that I've got in a mess with a married woman. That's what it looks like, too." His voice broke huskily. "How could you do it, when I meant my love to be clean, honorable? How could you let me put myself, and you, in such a position?"

"You see!" The woman continued to avoid his eye. "You haven't grown up. You haven't the least understanding."

Phillips' eyes were dim with desire, he was ablaze with yearning; in a voice that shooed he said: "Don't tell me anything. I won't hear it!" Then, after a brief struggle with himself, he continued, more evenly: "That ought to prove to you that I'm grown up. I couldn't have said it three months ago, but I've stepped out of—the nursery into a world of big things and big people, and I want you. I dare say you've lived—a woman like you must have had many experiences, many obstacles to overcome; but—I might not understand what they were even if you told me, for I'm pretty green. Anyhow, I'm sure you're good. I would not believe you if you told me you weren't. It's no credit to me that I haven't confessions of my own to make, for I'm like other men and it merely so happens that I've had no chance to—soil myself. The credit is due to circumstance."

"Everything is due to circumstance," the woman said. "Our lives are haphazard affairs; we're blown by chance."

"We'll take a new start tomorrow and bury the past, whatever it is."

"You make it absolutely necessary for me to speak," the Countess told him. Her tone again had a touch of weariness in it, but Pierce did not see this. "I knew I'd have to, sooner or later, but it was nice to drift and to dream—oh, it was pleasant—so I bit down on my tongue and I listened to nothing but the song in my heart." MINNESOTA OPENS ITS BIG TEN SEASON

MINNESOTA TO TAKE ON BADGERS, SATURDAY GAME

MICHIGAN-NAVY BATTLE TO BE FOUGHT AT ANN ARBOR

CHICAGO MAROONS EXPECTED TO LAND VICTORY IN GAME WITH PURDUE

By EDWARD C. DERR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Oct. 30.—With Red Grange, the Illinois wonderman, playing in the east tomorrow, middle west football fans will have to be satisfied with lesser luminaries and games of only passing interest this week end. The Michigan-Navy battle at Ann Arbor will attract the bulk of interests. In addition to being an inter-sectional game and giving sectional enthusiasts another opportunity to boost their respective favorites it will afford another opportunity to see just how well Benny Friedman, Michigan's stellar quarterback, can measure up to Red Grange.

On the face of early season games, Michigan should win but Navy has a team that should be feared by the best of them. A victory for the Middles would be a serious setback to the prestige of middle western football as Michigan is obviously the class of the western conference.

Tomorrow's schedule brings three games that will have a bearing on the Big Ten championship race.

Coach A. A. Stagg's Chicago Maroons, although defeated by Pennsylvania, still have a clean slate in the Big Ten and are expected to come through with a victory over Purdue. As usual, however, the gloomy Stagg says he fears the boilermakers.

Minnesota opens its Big Ten season by taking on Wisconsin, a team that has failed to live up to expectations. The slim 7 to 0 victory last week over Purdue makes Wisconsin appear weak indeed and Minnesota may push the Badgers even farther down the ladder.

Northwestern, another team that has been weaker than it looked when the season opened, celebrates its homecoming by welcoming Indiana. With Moon Baker not likely to take a chance with his sprained ankle, the Wildcats will have a job on their hands to send Indiana home defeated. The odds favor Northwestern, however.

With these six teams engaging in championship games, the other four members of the Big Ten go outside of the conference for their games tomorrow. Illinois clashes with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in the outstanding sectional game of the day. Ohio State meets Wooster at Columbus; Iowa takes on the strong Little Wabash squad at Iowa City, and Michigan will be busy with the Navy.

* FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS *

Signed for Three Fights
New York—Tommy Milligan, European welterweight, and middleweight champion, has been signed for three bouts in Madison Square Garden during the indoor season, Tex Rickard announced.

Mello Wins From Jones
Boston—Al Mello, former national amateur welterweight champion, won a 10 round bout decision from Jimmy Jones, Youngstown.

Socklyn Takes the Count
Des Moines, Ia.—Sid Socklyn of Lincoln took the count in the fifth period of a scheduled eight round bout with Buffalo Callahan here last night. Socklyn, who was good in the early minutes, was saved by the bell in the fourth round and passed out in the next.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS IN GOOD SHAPE

Minnesota trunk highways as a whole continue in good condition, says a bulletin from the state highway department today giving the present status on 7,000 miles of routes and indicating little change during the week.

The bulletin form is revised to give more, detailed information and to better schedule winter conditions under the tentative snow removal program. The good, fair and passable ratings apply to the sections between towns listed.

The bulletin follows giving conditions as of today on the "Babecock roads" marked with official numbers on yellow stars, as they apply to roads in the Brainerd lake region:

T. H. No. 2—Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit and Moorhead—264 miles—Duluth, good—Brainerd, fair—Mottley, good—fair—Staples, fair—Wadena, good—Detroit, good—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Millaca, Garrison and Brainerd—102 miles—All good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—97 miles—All good.
T. H. No. 27—St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—66 miles—St. Cloud—paved—Belle Prairie—fair 25 mile detour—Brainerd.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Coach Morey Fay and 22 players leave here tonight for Beloit, Wis., to play Beloit college Saturday.

EAST SEES RED GRANGE FOR FIRST TIME

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 30.—Three attractive inter-sectional games, bringing into action three of the leading teams of the country, will be the features of an interesting football schedule for tomorrow.

Pennsylvania, one of the strongest teams in the east, will try to stop Red Grange and his Illinois eleven.

Michigan, one of the powers of the Western conference, will face the invasion of the Navy, the strongest team that has been developed at Annapolis since the war.

Georgia Tech, back again as the color bearer of the south, will entertain the successors to Notre Dame's 1924 championship team.

As far as general interest in the east is concerned, the Penn-Illinois game will be not only the biggest game of the day but one of the most interesting of the whole season.

The east is so tremendously interested in seeing Red Grange, the famed Illinois back in action, that the immense stadium has been sold out to the last seat for weeks and the speculators have reaped the greatest harvest in years.

Penn has looked so well in the previous games this season and Illinois has made such an inferior showing in the middle west that Philadelphia was offering bets not only that Penn would win but that Grange would be stopped cold.

Two great teams, representative of their sections, will be in action in Ann Arbor when Michigan meets the Navy.

It will be the first time that a Navy team has gone so far west and it is rather fortunate that the midshipmen will be represented by one of the best teams developed at Annapolis in years.

It should be a great battle between Benny Friedman, the star Michigan quarterback and Alan Shapley, the star Navy back, with the odds slightly in favor of Michigan.

"Old N. D. she ain't what she used to be," the Cadets sang after a great Army team had beaten Notre Dame 27 to 0 several weeks ago.

It is true that the Notre Dame team cannot be compared to the 1924 champions—but what team can?

Knut Rockne took to Atlanta a good young team but one that is too green and inexperienced for real hard competition.

The defeat administered by the Army should have been of benefit to the youngsters, however, not only because it gave them some very valuable experience, but it removed from them the strain of trying to keep up the record of their predecessors.

Georgia Tech is the favorite, but don't have heart failure if Notre Dame wins.

BRAINERD VS. LITTLE FALLS HERE TOMORROW

STAGE SET FOR AN INTERESTING FOOTBALL GAME

COACH BERESFORD BELIEVES CONTENDING TEAMS WELL MATCHED

The stage is set for the Brainerd-Little Falls football game, which will be played at the local athletic park tomorrow afternoon, the game being called at 2:30 o'clock.

Coach Beresford, of the Brainerd squad, while unwilling to make any prophecy, feels that the contending teams will be well matched, and each will have an even break. The local team has been putting on some stiff practice work during the past week, and fans will no doubt witness a very lively game tomorrow.

Brainerd was beaten by Little Falls in a 14 to 6 score early in the season, but the lineup tomorrow will be a big improvement over the one that faced the down-river team a month ago. The local squad has been greatly improved and strengthened by the return of Putz and Whitlock, although somewhat crippled by the loss of Koop at end because of ineligibility, and Finne at tackle because of injuries.

It is hoped that Brainerd people will support the home team in tomorrow's game by turning out en masse to boost for the local players. This, Coach Beresford points out, will go along ways toward winning the game. It is understood that the Little Falls team will be accompanied by a big delegation of boosters, and is coming determined to take back Brainerd's scalp.

The lineup for Saturday's game as things now stand is as follows: Eckholm or Bane, center; Mraz and Hohmann, guards; Tribur and Crogg, tackles; Gile or Marshall, left end; Lawrenz, right end; Welliver, fullback; Putz, right half; Whitlock or

RUSH MADE FOR TICKETS TO SEE GRANGE PLAY

TICKET OFFICE CLOSED, POLICE TO SAVE BUILDING FROM CROWDS

PENNSYLVANIA SQUAD TAKEN TO ATLANTIC CITY FOR A REST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—Business and social activity were almost neglected today in a mad and hopeless rush for tickets for tomorrow's game between Pennsylvania and Red Grange's Illinois eleven.

University athletic officials closed the ticket office and asked protection of police to save the building. Private detectives had to be hired to protect the club house and the Pennsylvania squad had to be taken to a resort near Atlantic City so that the players could keep their minds off football and keep their bodies together.

Some Pennsylvania students, who preferred dough to Alma Mater, rented their registration cards or sold their tickets to speculators, who predicted, while rubbing their palms together that they would get $50 tomorrow for a good one within the 49 yard zone.

Hanged Himself With a Rawhide Shoestring in Duluth

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

BIG NIGHT OF AMERICAN LEGION

Monday Evening Short Business Session Followed by Athletic Entertainment

BOXING AND WRESTLING

Big Feed Arranged For—Every Ex-Service Man Cordially Invited to Attend

The American Legion meeting scheduled for Monday evening, will be much more than the regular monthly business meeting, for the committee in charge has promised some mighty interesting entertainment and a big feed, inducements that should bring out the membership 100 per cent.

A part of the entertainment feature will be several boxing exhibitions and wrestling matches, with semi-professionals and amateurs as the center of attraction on the mat. Fred Sincoks has charge of the bouts and is arranging for some mighty interesting exhibitions, with perhaps a number of surprises.

Monday night's meeting is not alone for members of the Legion, but every ex-service man is invited and urged to be present. Everything is free to the ex-service buddies, and it is hoped that all will plan to attend.

The local post of the American Legion is very active and is forging ahead rapidly under the direction of Commander George Sweet. The winter program of activities is being planned, and will be announced at Monday's meeting. It will be a program that should reflect much credit upon the Brainerd post, and one that will no doubt have the whole-hearted support of every member.

ARMY TO FACE YALE TOMORROW

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Army's husky squad of 38 players arrived today for the annual game between Yale and the cadets in the bowl tomorrow. The bowl will seat 75,241 spectators and every ticket has been sold. Among the distinguished spectators will be the presidents of 13 universities, high ranking army officers and practically every Yale alumnus of enough importance to get a ticket.

Bunnell, Noble, Foote and Allen will start in the Yale backfield and Yeomans, Trapnell, Wilson and Buell will be behind the Army line.

BAND ACCOMPANIES THE ILLINI SQUAD

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Red Grange and the remainder of the University of Illinois football team arrived here today for their inter-sectional battle with Pennsylvania tomorrow on Franklin field. The Illinois university band with several hundred rosters will invade the city tonight.

La Fayette, Ind.—The fightingest Purdue team that has walked on to Stagg field in years will face the Maroons Saturday. The freshmen team has been as nothing to the varsity this week. The men are in good physical shape, except Captain Hermes and Gladders, full back.

South Bend, Ind.—Inclement weather continued to play havoc with the Notre Dame practices this week. The team leaves for Atlanta today with little more than one full practice this week. All regulars are in fair condition for the Georgia Tech encounter.

MINNESOTA OPENS ITS BIG TEN SEASON

MINNESOTA TO TAKE ON BADGERS, SATURDAY GAME

MICHIGAN-NAVY BATTLE TO BE FOUGHT AT ANN ARBOR

CHICAGO MAROONS EXPECTED TO LAND VICTORY IN GAME WITH PURDUE

By EDWARD C. DERR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Oct. 30. — With Red Grange, the Illinois wonderman, playing in the east tomorrow, middle west football fans will have to be satisfied with lesser luminaries and games of only passing interest this week end. The Michigan-Navy battle at Ann Arbor will attract the bulk of interests. In addition to being an inter-sectional game and giving sectional enthusiasts another opportunity to boost their respective favorites it will afford another opportunity to see just how well Benny Friedman, Michigan's stellar quarterback, can measure up to Red Grange.

On the face of early season games, Michigan should win but Navy has a team that should be feared by the best of them. A victory for the Middles would be a serious setback to the prestige of middle western football as Michigan is obviously the class of the western conference.

Tomorrow's schedule brings three games that will have a bearing on the Big Ten championship race.

Coach A. A. Stagg's Chicago Maroons, although defeated by Pennsylvania, still have a clean slate in the Big Ten and are expected to come through with a victory over Purdue. As usual, however, the gloomy Stagg says he fears the boilermakers.

Minnesota opens its Big Ten season by taking on Wisconsin, a team that has failed to live up to expectations. The slim 7 to 9 victory last week over Purdue makes Wisconsin appear weak indeed and Minnesota may push the Badgers even farther down the ladder.

Northwestern, another team that has been weaker than it looked when the season opened, celebrates its homecoming by welcoming Indiana. With Moon Baker not likely to take a chance with his sprained ankle, the Wildcats will have a job on their hands to send Indiana home defeated. The odds favor Northwestern, however.

With these six teams engaging in championship games, the other four members of the Big Ten go outside of the conference for their games tomorrow. Illinois clashes with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in the outstanding sectional game of the day, Ohio State meets Wooster at Columbus; Iowa takes on the strong Little Wabash squad at Iowa City, and Michigan will be busy with the Navy.

Socklyn Takes the Count

TRUNK HIGHWAYS IN GOOD SHAPE

Minnesota trunk highways as a whole continue in good condition, says a bulletin from the state highway department today giving the present status on 7,000 miles of routes and indicating little change during the week.

The bulletin form is revised to give more detailed information and to better schedule winter conditions under the tentative snow removal program. The good, fair and passable ratings apply to the sections between towns listed.

The bulletin follows giving conditions as of today on the "Babeck roads" marked with official numbers on yellow stars, as they apply to roads in the Brainerd lake region:

EAST SEES RED GRANGE FOR FIRST TIME

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 30.—Three attractive inter-sectional games, bringing into action three of the leading teams of the country, will be the features of an interesting football schedule for tomorrow.

Pennsylvania, one of the strongest teams in the east, will try to stop Red Grange and his Illinois eleven.

Michigan, one of the powers of the Western conference, will face the invasion of the Navy, the strongest team that has been developed at Annapolis since the war.

Georgia Tech, back again as the color bearer of the south, will entertain the successors to Notre Dame's 1924 championship team.

As far as general interest in the east is concerned, the Penn-Illinois game will be not only the biggest game of the day but one of the most interesting of the whole season.

The east is so tremendously interested in seeing Red Grange, the famed Illinois back in action, that the immense stadium has been sold out to the last seat for weeks and the speculators have reaped the greatest harvest in years.

Penn has looked so well in the previous games this season and Illinois has made such an inferior showing in the middle west that Philadelphia was offering bets not only that Penn would win but that Grange would be stopped cold.

Two great teams, representative of their sections, will be in action in Ann Arbor when Michigan meets the Navy.

It will be the first time that a Navy team has gone so far west and it is rather fortunate that the midshipmen will be represented by one of the best teams developed at Annapolis in years.

It should be a great battle between Benny Friedman, the star Michigan quarterback and Alan Shapley, the star Navy back, with the odds slightly in favor of Michigan.

"Old N. D., she ain't what she used to be," the Cadets sang after a great Army team had beaten Notre Dame 27 to 0 several weeks ago.

It is true that the Notre Dame team cannot be compared to the 1924 champions—but what team can?

Knute Rockne took to Atlanta a good young team but one that is too green and inexperienced for real hard competition.

The defeat administered by the Army should have been of benefit to the youngsters, however, not only because it gave them some very valuable experience, but it removed from them the strain of trying to keep up the record of their predecessors.

Georgia Tech is the favorite, but don't have heart failure if Notre Dame wins.

BRAINERD VS. LITTLE FALLS HERE TOMORROW

STAGE SET FOR AN INTERESTING FOOTBALL GAME

COACH BERESFORD BELIEVES CONTENDING TEAMS WELL MATCHED

The stage is set for the Brainerd-Little Falls football game, which will be played at the local athletic park tomorrow afternoon, the game being called at 2:30 o'clock.

Coach Beresford, of the Brainerd squad, while unwilling to make any prophesies, feels that the contending teams will be well matched, and each will have an even break. The local team has been putting on some stiff practice work during the past week, and fans will no doubt witness a very lively game tomorrow.

Brainerd was beaten by Little Falls in a 14 to 6 score early in the season, but the lineup tomorrow will be a big improvement over the one that faced the down-river team a month ago. The local squad has been greatly improved and strengthened by the return of Putz and Whitlock, although somewhat crippled by the loss of Koop at end because of ineligibility, and Finne at tackle because of injuries.

It is hoped that Brainerd people will support the home team in tomorrow's game by turning out en masse to boost for the local players. This, Coach Beresford points out, will go along ways toward winning the game. It is understood that the Little Falls team will be accompanied by a big delegation of boosters, and is coming determined to take back Brainerd's scalp.

The lineup for Saturday's game as things now stand is as follows. Eckholm or Bane, center; Mraz and Hohmann, guards; Tribur and Cregg, tackles; Gile or Marshall, left end; Lawrenz, right end; Welliver, fullback; Putz, right half; Whitlock or

TICKET OFFICE CLOSED, POLICE TO SAVE BUILDING FROM CROWDS

PENNSYLVANIA SQUAD TAKEN TO ATLANTIC CITY FOR A REST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—Business and social activity were almost neglected today in a mad and hopeless rush for tickets for tomorrow's game between Pennsylvania and Red Grange's Illinois eleven.

University athletic officials closed the ticket office and asked protection of police to save the building. Private detectives had to be hired to protect the club house and the Pennsylvania squad had to be taken to a resort near Atlantic City so that the players could keep their minds off football and keep their bodies together.

Some Pennsylvania students, who preferred doughnuts to Alma Mater, rented their registration cards or sold their tickets to speculators, who predicted, while rubbing their palms together that they would get $50 tomorrow for a good one within the 40 yard zone.

BOXING AND WRESTLING

Big Feed Arranged For—Every Ex-Service Man Cordially Invited to Attend

The American Legion meeting scheduled for Monday evening, will be much more than the regular monthly business meeting, for the committee in charge has promised some mighty interesting entertainment and a big feed, inducements that should bring out the membership 100 per cent.

A part of the entertainment feature will be several boxing exhibitions and wrestling matches, with semi-professionals and amateurs as the center of attraction on the mat. Fred Sincocks has charge of the bouts and is arranging for some mighty interesting exhibitions, with perhaps a number of surprises.

Monday night's meeting is not alone for members of the Legion, but every ex-service man is invited and urged to be present. Everything is free to the ex-service buddies, and it is hoped that all will plan to attend.

The local post of the American Legion is very active and is forging ahead rapidly under the direction of Commander George Sweet. The winter program of activities is being planned and will be announced at Monday's meeting. It will be a program that should reflect much credit upon the Brainerd post, and one that will no doubt have the whole-hearted support of every member.

ARMY TO FACE YALE TOMORROW

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Army's husky squad of 38 players arrived today for the annual game between Yale and the cadets in the bowl tomorrow. The bowl will seat 75,241 spectators and every ticket has been sold. Among the distinguished spectators will be the presidents of 13 universities, high ranking army officers and practically every Yale alumnus of enough importance to get a ticket.

Bunnell, Noble, Foote and Allen will start in the Yale backfield and Yeomans, Trapnell, Wilson and Buell will be behind the Army line.

BAND ACCOMPANIES THE ILLINI SQUAD

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Red Grange and the remainder of the University of Illinois football team arrived here today for their inter-sectional battle with Pennsylvania tomorrow on Franklin field. The Illinois university band with several hundred rooters will invade the city tonight.

La Fayette, Ind.—The fightingest Purdue team that has walked on to Stagg field in years will face the Maroons Saturday. The freshmen team has been as nothing to the varsity this week. The men are in good physical shape, except Captain Hermeson and Gladders, full back.

South Bend, Ind.—Inclement weather continued to play havoc with the Notre Dame practices this week. The team leaves for Atlanta today with little more than one full practice this week. All regulars are in fair condition for the Georgia Tech encounter.

SEPTEMBER REPORT IS ENCOURAGING

Monthly Report of Brainerd Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Association is Very Good

27,908 POUNDS BUTTER MADE

Latter Sold For $13,301.21; Creamery Paid Patrons 55c For Sweet Cream Butterfat

The September monthly report of the Brainerd Farmers' Co-Operative Creamery Association shows that their business has been very good for this time of the year when cows are going dry and not many have become fresh as yet. The report says: "A total of 27,908 pounds of butter was made which sold for $13,301.21. The creamery paid its patrons 55 cents for sweet cream butterfat and 50 cents for sour cream. Of the butter made during this month, the home market absorbed 11,776 pounds or almost half. The remainder, 16,562 pounds, was shipped to the eastern markets through the Minnesota Co-Operative Creameries Association and scored by the federal inspectors. Their score reports showed 12,274 pounds of 93 score butter, 512 pounds of 92 score, 1,664 pounds of 91 score and 2,112 pounds of 90 score butter, making 74 per cent of 93 score, 3 per cent of 92 score and 23 per cent of 91 and 90 score or sour cream butter."

"The 93 score butter is made from strictly sweet cream only and is the well-known Land O' Lakes butter. The federal inspectors are very strict and allow no butter scoring less than 93 to enter the Land O' Lakes grade. As the creamery sells only sweet cream butter to its local trade, the percentage of high grade butter manufactured is much higher than the federal score report would indicate."

"The uniform high quality of the butter made at the Brainerd Farmers' Creamery has been recognized by the Minnesota Co-Operative Creameries Association and our creamery is now rated as one of the best in the state. They sent us the big sign on the front of the creamery building, which certifies to the fact that this creamery is now making the best butter that can be made."

"Someone may ask, 'How did you do it?' Co-operation and correct business methods is the answer. Our patrons hearty co-operation, close grading of all cream bought, a five cent premium on the sweet cream butterfat and a high class butter-maker are the main factors which have brought us these splendid results. It has cost the farmers years of effort, experimenting and hard work to have a first class co-operative creamery in this community but now we have one and it is well worth the effort."

"We have reliable figures on hand to show that the centralizers were paying only 43 cents to 47 cents for butterfat during September in communities where the farmers have no co-operative creameries. In Brainerd, for the same period, the cream station price was several cents higher. This shows what a good co-operative creamery, supported by loyal patrons, can do for the whole community. Those farmers who refuse to patronize such a creamery but who prefer to take their cream to a cream station show themselves to be willing to reap the benefits of a good co-operative creamery but yet unwilling to support the very institution directly responsible for these higher prices."

"Seven years ago on the first day of October at 5 o'clock a. m., C. F. Peterson brought the first can of cream to the Brainerd Farmers' Creamery. More cream came in during the forenoon and later on in the day H. P. Hanson, buttermaker at that time, made the first churning in the new creamery. Quite a number of farmers remained in the creamery nearly the whole day inspecting the new plant and in the afternoon when the fresh butter came out of the churn, everybody had to have a taste of it."

"They all agreed what good butter it was. Then the buttermilk was tasted. There was quite a crowd around the buttermilk tank. Mr. S. was in the middle of this group and on lifting a cup of buttermilk to his lips, he found it so good that in his eagerness to get a second helping before the supply was exhausted, he spilled it all over his whiskers! Free lunch was served at noon and then a short business meeting was held in the hall. A. J. McGuire was there and made a good speech. Everybody went home that evening in high spirits and the birthday celebrations were over."

"We have met and solved many problems during these seven years. The work was new to all of us. We had much to learn before things began working smoothly. We were under a heavy debt, overhead expenses were high at the start, costly equipment and improvements were needed from time to time and for the past two years there has been strong competition by various centralizers, but we are glad to say that by the help of our loyal patrons our creamery is going stronger than ever before."

"Business has been gradually increasing year after year since the creamery started. The indebtedness, which was $10,112 at the start, will be reduced to $1,550 after the fall payment, now ready, is made. The overhead expenses have been reduced also. In order to show what saving has been effected in operating costs during the past two years, we will take for example the six summer months when expenses are the heaviest. In 1923 the cost of operation from April first to October first was $6,965.53 and in 1925 for the same period it was $5,563.51, a direct saving of $1,402.02 and this in the face of the biggest run we have ever had. Of course this saving has been of direct benefit to our patrons as the creamery was able to pay a higher price for butterfat. We are looking for still further reductions after the mortgage is paid up. The sinking fund charges can then be cut down one cent per pound of butterfat. This will automatically raise our butterfat price paid to patrons one cent on each pound."

"We hope that all the farmers will realize that there is no need in selling their cream to the centralizers when there is a first class creamery in the community. There they will get the correct weight and test. The butter is made and marketed at cost and the farmer gets every cent there is in it. Most of the overhead or operating costs of a creamery remain nearly the same whether the output of butter is large or small. So increasing the volume means a consequent reduction in the cost of manufacturing each pound of butter. This

$750 FOR LOAD OF CLOVER SEED

Mel Crowell, Crow Wing County Farmer, Sells Seeds to O'Brien Mercantile Co.

MEDIUM RED VARIETY

Sacked in 21 Sacks And Had a Total Weight of 2,910 Pounds

Mel Crowell, Crow Wing County farmer, residing in the Dykeman district, realized $750 from one load of clover seed, which he sold this week to the O'Brien Mercantile Company.

This seed was of the medium red variety, sacked in 21 sacks of a total weight of 2,910 pounds. It was taken from a fourteen-acre field and was considered to be an average yield.

In addition to the amount realized from the sale of the seed, Mr. Crowell has the hay left for feeding purposes, and clover hay is now quoted at from $13.50 to $16 per ton on the twin city markets.

Mr. Crowell is considered one of the progressive and prosperous farmers of Crow Wing county, and in addition to his clover field, had a very good crop of small grain and corn.

naturally enables the creamery to pay a still higher price for butterfat. A united community back of a co-operative creamery means a maximum return for each farmer. For this reason a co-operative creamery, working for the benefit of the farmer every day of the year around, deserves the loyal support of every farmer living in its territory."

SEPTEMBER REPORT IS ENCOURAGING

Monthly Report of Brainerd Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Association is Very Good

27,908 POUNDS BUTTER MADE

Latter Sold For $13,301.21; Creamery Paid Patrons 55c For Sweet Cream Butterfat

The September monthly report of the Brainerd Farmers' Co-operative Creamery Association shows that their business has been very good for this time of the year when cows are going dry and not many have become fresh as yet. The report says: "A total of 27,908 pounds of butter was made which sold for $13,301.21. The creamery paid its patrons 55 cents for sweet cream butterfat and 50 cents for sour cream. Of the butter made during this month, the home market absorbed 11,776 pounds or almost half. The remainder, 16,562 pounds, was shipped to the eastern markets through the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries Association and scored by the federal inspectors. Their score reports showed 12,274 pounds of 93 score butter, 512 pounds of 92 score, 1,664 pounds of 91 score and 2,112 pounds of 90 score butter, making 74 per cent of 93 score, 3 per cent of 92 score and 23 per cent of 91 and 90 score or sour cream butter."

"The 93 score butter is made from strictly sweet cream only and is the well-known Land O' Lakes butter. The federal inspectors are very strict and allow no butter scoring less than 93 to enter the Land O' Lakes grade. As the creamery sells only sweet cream butter to its local trade, the percentage of high grade butter manufactured is much higher than the federal score report would indicate."

"The uniform high quality of the butter made at the Brainerd Farmers' Creamery has been recognized by the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries Association and our creamery is now rated as one of the best in the state. They sent us the big sign on the front of the creamery building, which certifies to the fact that this creamery is now making the best butter that can be made."

"Someone may ask, 'How did you do it?' Co-operation and correct business methods is the answer. Our patrons hearty co-operation, close grading of all cream bought, a five cent premium on the sweet cream butterfat and a high class butter-maker are the main factors which have brought us these splendid results. It has cost the farmers years of effort, experimenting and hard work to have a first class co-operative creamery in this community but now we have one and it is well worth the effort."

"We have reliable figures on hand to show that the centralizers were paying only 43 cents to 47 cents for butterfat during September in communities where the farmers have no co-operative creameries. In Brainerd, for the same period, the cream station price was several cents higher. This shows what a good co-operative creamery, supported by loyal patrons, can do for the whole community. Those farmers who refuse to patronize such a creamery but who prefer to take their cream to a cream station show themselves to be willing to reap the benefits of a good co-operative creamery but yet unwilling to support the very institution directly responsible for these higher prices. "Seven years ago on the first day of October at 5 o'clock a. m., C. F. Peterson brought the first can of cream to the Brainerd Farmers' Creamery. More cream came in during the forenoon and later on in the day H. P. Hanson, buttermaker at that time, made the first churning in the new creamery. Quite a number of farmers remained in the creamery nearly the whole day inspecting the new plant and in the afternoon when the fresh butter came out of the churn, everybody had to have a taste of it."

"They all agreed what good butter it was. Then the buttermilk was tasted. There was quite a crowd around the buttermilk tank. Mr. S. was in the middle of this group and on lifting a cup of buttermilk to his lips, he found it so good that in his eagerness to get a second helping before the supply was exhausted, he spilled it all over his whiskers! Free lunch was served at noon and then a short business meeting was held in the hall. A. J. McGuire was there and made a good speech. Everybody went home that evening in high spirits and the birthday celebrations were over."

"We have met and solved many problems during these seven years. The work was new to all of us. We had much to learn before things began working smoothly. We were under a heavy debt, overhead expenses were high at the start, costly equipment and improvements were needed from time to time and for the past two years there has been strong competition by various centralizers, but we are glad to say that by the help of our loyal patrons our creamery is going stronger than ever before."

"Business has been gradually increasing year after year since the creamery started. The indebtedness, which was $10,112 at the start, will be reduced to $1,550 after the fall payment, now ready, is made. The overhead expenses have been reduced also. In order to show what saving has been effected in operating costs during the past two years, we will take for example the six summer months when expenses are the heaviest. In 1923 the cost of operation from April first to October first was $6,965.53 and in 1925 for the same period it was $5,563.51, a direct saving of $1,400.00 and this in the face of the biggest run we have ever had. Of course, this saving has been of direct benefit to our patrons as the creamery was able to pay a higher price for butterfat. We are looking for still further reductions after the mortgage is paid up. The sinking fund charges can then be cut down one cent per pound of butterfat. This will automatically raise our butterfat price paid to patrons one cent on each pound."

"We hope that all the farmers will realize that there is no need in selling their cream to the centralizers when there is a first class creamery in the community. There they will get the correct weight and test. The butter is made and marketed at cost and the farmer gets every cent there is in it. Most of the overhead or operating costs of a creamery remain nearly the same whether the output of butter is large or small. So increasing the volume means a consequent reduction in the cost of manufacturing each pound of butter. This

$750 FOR LOAD OF CLOVER SEED

Mel Crowell, Crow Wing County Farmer, Sells Seeds to O'Brien Mercantile Co.

MEDIUM RED VARIETY

Sacked in 21 Sacks And Had a Total Weight of 2,910 Pounds

Mel Crowell, Crow Wing County farmer, residing in the Dykeman district, realized $750 from one load of clover seed, which he sold this week to the O'Brien Mercantile Company.

This seed was of the medium red variety, sacked in 21 sacks of a total weight of 2,910 pounds. It was taken from a fourteen-acre field and was considered to be an average yield.

In addition to the amount realized from the sale of the seed, Mr. Crowell has the hay left for feeding purposes, and clover hay is now quoted at from $13.50 to $16 per ton on the twin city markets.

Mr. Crowell is considered one of the progressive and prosperous farmers of Crow Wing county, and in addition to his clover field, had a very good crop of small grain and corn.

naturally enables the creamery to pay a still higher price for butterfat. A united community back of a co-operative creamery means a maximum return for each farmer. For this reason a co-operative creamery, working for the benefit of the farmer every day the year around, deserves the loyal support of every farmer living in its territory."

HUPMOBILE'S NEW 6-CYLINDER CAR

Hupp Motor Car Corporation is Proud of Its Achievement in Building This Type

SHOWN AT LIVELY AUTO CO.

New Six is Culmination of Tests Begun by Hupp People in 1914

Hupmobile's new six cylinder car, into which the Hupp Motor Car Corporation declares has been built a performance and smoothness of operation entirely new to its particular field, arrived today and is being shown by the Lively Auto Company, Hupmobile dealers.

The new six is the culmination of tests with six cylinder motor cars first begun by Hupp in 1914 and which have continued unceasingly the last two years. The company reports that during that 11-year period it has built and scrapped more than a dozen six cylinder types in its efforts to achieve results finally secured in the car it is now announcing.

"This new car," says Henry Mills, of the Lively Auto Co., "combines all the features of long life, economy of operation, freedom from repair, dependability and other characteristic features which have, for nearly a score of years, been associated with the name Hupmobile the world over."

This car is the companion of the Hupmobile Eight, announced last January, which since that time has become the largest selling straight eight in the world, the company declares. Four wheel brakes, balloon tires, absolutely water tight one-piece windshield, automatic wind-shield wiper, transmission lock, gasoline gauge on dash, rear view mirror, and other modern features, both in chassis and body, are standard equipment.

The bodies are finished in "Duo," of a new ocean green color, with darker green belt and black upper body adding another touch of distinction. Touring car upholstery is genuine Spanish leather, of mottled grey pattern to harmonize with body color. Sedan upholstery is gray brougham cloth. Seats are wide and deep, with a natural, restful contour. Four wide doors have been provided, with ample leg room for six-foot occupants.

The Lively Auto Company is very proud of the new six cylinder model, and invites the public to call for an inspection of its outstanding features.

OLD DAMASCUS LOOKS LIKE CITY OF THE DEAD

London, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Old Damascus is like a city of the dead, according to refugees from Syria, quoted by the Daily Mail's Cairo correspondent today.

Fleeing from the French bombardment city, the refugees brought reports that shells were believed to have killed 1,200 prisoners in the city prison, while they reported several million dollars damage to property.

They charged that the French troops after their bombardment of the city came into the town and started an orgy, shooting into stores on the principal streets from armored cars and looting as they went.

Cessation of the bombardment was said to be due to the protests of European consuls at Damascus.

DEATH TOLL 1,000; PROPERTY LOSS $10,000,000

Washington, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Official advices reaching the American government today placed the death toll of the French bombardment of Damascus at 1,000 persons and the property damage at $10,000,000.

No estimate was received as to the extent of damage to American property which was included in the general total although it is known that there were no Americans among those killed.

A detailed report of American property damage is being compiled by J. H. Kelly, American consul at Damascus, at the instance of the state department on which to base a claim against the French government for reparations.

TWO INJURED IN STREET CAR ACCIDENT

Duluth, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Two persons were injured and 18 escaped unhurt when a Kenwood avenue street car left the tracks near the end of the line and overturned last night.

Mrs. A. S. O'Brien received a scalp wound and Walter Oppolzar was bruised and cut. The car was operated by one man.

LANDMARK IN FRONTENAC BURNED

Frontenac, Minn., Oct. 30.—(UP)—The Frontenac cash store landmark for thirty years, was burned to the ground today by fire which started from an overheated furnace. Residents devoted their efforts to preventing spread of the flames to other buildings. They worked in near zero temperature. Loss on the building was estimated at $15,000.

Question Man
Hurley, Wis.—Minneapolis authorities arrived here today to question Edward Murphy in connection with the robbery of the Minnetonka State bank at Excelsior recently. Five bandits obtained $15,000 and escaped in an automobile.

A larger scale, possibly expending about $1,000.

The secretary read a letter from the attorney general of Minnesota, in regard to visitors' automobile permits, in which it was stated that motorists from outside states are required to register in Minnesota within 10 days after arrival, receiving a permit to operate their cars in the state for a period of 60 days, but if they remain longer it is necessary to take out a regular automobile license the same as residents here are required to do. This matter was discussed at some length at the Chamber, it being the opinion of many that such a law keeps tourists from enjoying the Minnesota lakes, or limits their stay here, and so is unfair, both to the visitors and to the resort owners and business men.

The secretary read a communication from Mr. Start, of the firm of Harrison and Start, realtors, of Kansas City, Mo., which is making extensive improvements in the property at Gull Lake. The letter concerned a number of suggestions for improved conditions in this section, especially as it affects tourists, lake levels, etc.

One of the suggestions made by Mr. Start was that the state fishing laws be amended to allow non-residents the same privileges as residents, without the payment of a high license fee. Another suggestion was that the matter of the fishway at the Gull lake dam be taken up with the game and fish department, and improvements made there.

Mr. Start asked that the control of the waters in Gull lake be placed under state control, instead of being under federal management as at present, that the waters in this chain of lake could be better handled, especially if in charge of the game and fish department.

These matters and others outlined by Mr. Start were referred to the legislative committee, and in some cases nothing can be done until the next meeting of the state legislature.

A letter was read from Mayor George Leach, of Minneapolis, advising of a meeting of the Minneapolis river terminal commission to be held in that city at 8 o'clock on the evening of November 2nd, and asking the Chamber to name a delegate to the meeting. No action was taken upon this matter.

The Fidelity and the Woolworth stores had been asked to take out memberships in the Chamber of Commerce, and a letter was read from the management of the first named, stating that the Fidelity stores are not allowed to join chambers of commerce because of the expense involved, the policy being to keep down such expenses that the customers may be given low price advantages.

The Woolworth store has taken membership in the Chamber in the past, but in a letter from that company it was stated that the manager of this part of the business was out of the city, and nothing could be done until he returned. That letter was received several months ago, and nothing has been heard from the company's headquarters since.

George E. Lowe reported that the city had not installed lamp posts along the north side of Front street, and that it was felt such lighting was important. He was advised that this has been taken care of, and that the posts would probably be installed within the next month or six weeks, on Front street, from Fourth to Broadway.

W. C. Cobb praised the chef, Mr. Hall and the house committee for the excellent supper that had been served that evening, and felt that such meals should be repeated frequently, asking that the directors take up the matter of having one supper meeting per month.

G. S. Swanson complained about the mail service on the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific railway, stating that a letter which he posted on Sunday, addressed to a party in Aitkin, did not reach that person until Tuesday. It was explained that present business does not warrant the pouching of mail for points on the division on Sundays, and mail posted then is necessarily held until Monday before being sent out. With only two mail trains per day, such mail eastbound does not leave Brainerd until evening, and is not received by the addressee until the following day. If business warrants, a pouch will be prepared on Sundays, giving better service.

Dr. A. K. Cohen, who is interested in collecting funds to assist in repairing and preserving "Old Ironsides," stated that contributions from the school children of the city would not be sufficient to meet Brainerd's quota, and appealed to the citizens generally to assist in making up the required amount, by voluntary subscriptions. Each donor will receive a picture of the "Constitution" one of the very historic battleships of the American navy.

Three applications for membership were received and voted upon, the applicants being unanimously admitted to membership. They were John Stenberg, drygoods, Dr. C. E. Anderson, and Dr. A. A. Stenfeldt.

Run Down, Killed by Train

LOCAL HOSPITAL ON APPROVED LIST

St. Joseph's Hospital So Selected by American College of Surgeons

IN 8TH ANNUAL SURVEY

Fulfill Fundamental Requirements For Good Service to the Patient

St. Joseph's hospital, of Brainerd, is one of 40 such institutions in the state appearing on the approved list of the American College of Surgeons, and is the result of the eighth annual hospital standardization survey of 2,380 hospitals up to the first of October.

Of 61 hospitals in Minnesota included in this survey, 49 were approved, or 65.6 per cent, the same percentage which carried through the total of 2,380 institutions in the United States and Canada.

The hospitals whose names appear on the approved list are those recognized as fulfilling the fundamental requirements for good service to the patient, as assured through efficient staff organization, adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities, trained personnel, complete case records and a periodic checkup or medical audit of the clinical work of the hospital.

Dr. F. H. Martin, director general of the American College of Surgeons, states that this list of approved hospitals is of general interest, for by it, the patient can more intelligently and more safely choose a hospital and a physician when ill; the young woman with the ambition to become a nurse is assisted in her selection of a training school; the medical graduate eager for practical experience, seeks such a hospital for his internship, and federal, state and municipal organizations frequently consult the list in their selection of institutions when rendering financial assistance.

The American Railway Association has urged its 14,000 surgeons to select for its patients so far as possible hospitals approved by the American College of Surgeons, and the U. S. army, navy, veterans bureau and public health service share enthusiastically in voicing approval of the hospitals listed by the College of Surgeons, says Dr. Martin.

St. Joseph's hospital feels a just pride in earning a place upon this list, and is working at all times to increase its already high standards.

EUROPEAN PURCHASES OVER TWO BILLION

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—European purchases of American goods this year will probably total $2,700,000,000, Julius Klein, director of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce, today told the convention of the National Association of Farm Equipment here today.

The outstanding topic in the world of international business is the recovery of Europe, Klein said.

While the United States will benefit by the increase in the buying power by its biggest customer, domestic men must also consider the increased cost in overseas trade, Klein said.

As European industries expand, grow in power and prosperity, the fight for the trade of Latin America, the far east and the other sections of the globe will become more bitter, he said. Nationalistic propaganda is another force American business men must face, he said. Added to this is the government aid extended by some nations to private industry in the world fight for trade, Klein pointed out.

"The only effective answer to such a program can be found through the achievement of admitted superiority on the part of our wares in quality or price or service," Klein declared.

American investment capital abroad has increased from $2,000,000,000 to $9,000,000,000 in the past decade and this is another reason why American business men are doing their utmost to exploit trade opportunities abroad, Klein said.

PROSPERITY IN PROSPECT FOR NEXT 5 YEARS

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Prosperity is in prospect for the next five years, W. J. Hatenah, public utilities rate expert, declared today at the special Interstate Commerce commission hearing on the application of western railroads for a five per cent increase in freight rates.

The present price structure and possibly higher prices will rule for the next five years, he said. Hatenah made the statement while under cross examination by attorneys for shippers who are opposed to a rate increase.

Paul A. Walker, attorney from Oklahoma, and other attorneys declared that Hatenah erred when he testified that farmers' incomes have increased sufficiently to stand a higher freight rate. The increased income is nowhere near the figures submitted by Hatenah and other rate experts, the attorneys declared. Hatenah insisted that he believed his figures were correct.

Phillip Benson, secretary of the Dime Savings bank of New York, next witness, was asked by Attorney General Herman L. Ekern of Wisconsin, why he advocated a higher rate for the western roads. Benson said he was a member of the Roosevelt reorganization committee of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad and was interested in anything that would help put the road back on its feet.

Benson then said that the reorganization committee believed the railroad would be back on its feet in 1930 and be able to pay some dividends.

"If the road will do that under present rates, why do you ask for an increase in rates?" Ekern asked.

"Well, it will make recovery that much quicker."

SAYS PROSPERITY IS HERE

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—"The continuance of prosperity," was emphasized at the semi-annual meeting of the Robert Morris Associates, a national organization of credit men, in session here today.

"Savings on deposit are large and the credit situation is sound," said Dr. David Friday, former president of the Michigan Agricultural college and an accountant of note.

Dr. Friday said the farmer had good purchasing power, labor was enjoying favorable employment conditions and the situation is helped by an active building program. Railroads and public utilities, he said, are expanding at a normal rate, manufacturing plants are enlarging and creating a demand for building and machinery and exports are large.

These items, Dr. Friday pointed out, mean that prosperity is here. It will continue for at least another year without interruption, he predicted.

UNDERLYING STRENGTH SHOWN

New York, Oct. 30.—Heavy selling, which broke out at yesterday's close was not followed up today. On the contrary, the forward movement was resumed in many sections of the list and the general market continued to display plenty of evidence of plentiful underlying strength.

Call money renewed at 5 per cent and maintained that level throughout the session. However, this slight hardening was recognized as the outcome of financial operations incident to the end of the month.

Substantial advances occurred in numerous representative issues including Atlantic Coast Line, Hudson Motors, Jordan, Dodge Brothers, Anaconda Copper, American Smelting and International Machine.

The market closed higher.

HUPMOBILE'S NEW 6-CYLINDER CAR

Hupp Motor Car Corporation is Proud of Its Achievement in Building This Type

SHOWN AT LIVELY AUTO CO.

New Six is Culmination of Tests Begun by Hupp People in 1914

Hupmobile's new six cylinder car, into which the Hupp Motor Car Corporation declares has been built a performance and smoothness of operation entirely new to its particular field, arrived today and is being shown by the Lively Auto Company, Hupmobile dealers.

The new six is the culmination of tests with six cylinder motor cars first begun by Hupp in 1914 and which have continued unceasingly the last two years. The company reports that during that 11-year period it has built and scrapped more than a dozen six cylinder types in its efforts to achieve results finally secured in the car it is now announcing.

"This new car," says Henry Mills of the Lively Auto Co., "combines all the features of long life, economy of operation, freedom from repair, dependability and other characteristic features which have, for nearly a score of years, been associated with the name Hupmobile the world over."

This car is the companion of the Hupmobile Eight, announced last January, which since that time has become the largest selling straight eight in the world, the company declares. Four wheel brakes, balloon tires, absolutely water tight one-piece windshield, automatic windshield wiper, transmission lock, gas-line gauge on dash, rear view mirror, and other modern features, both in chassis and body, are standard equipment.

The bodies are finished in "Duco," of a new ocean green color, with darker green belt and black upper body adding another touch of distinction. Touring car upholstery is genuine Spanish leather, of mottled grey pattern to harmonize with body color. Sedan upholstery is gray broadloom cloth. Seats are wide and deep, with a natural, restful contour. Four wide doors have been provided, with ample leg room for six-foot occupants.

The Lively Auto Company is very proud of the new six cylinder model, and invites the public to call for an inspection of its outstanding features.

OLD DAMASCUS LOOKS LIKE CITY OF THE DEAD

London, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Old Damascus is like a city of the dead, according to refugees from Syria, quoted by the Daily Mail's Cairo correspondent today.

Fleeing from French bombardment city, the refugees brought reports that shells were believed to have killed 1,200 prisoners in the city prison, while they reported several million dollars damage to property.

They charged that the French troops after their bombardment of the city came into the town and started an orgy, shooting into stores on the principal streets from armored cars and looting as they went.

Cessation of the bombardment was said to be due to the protests of European consuls at Damascus.

DEATH TOLL 1,000;

PROPERTY LOSS $10,000,000
Washington, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Official advices reaching the American government today placed the death toll of the French bombardment of Damascus at 1,000 persons and the property damage at $10,000,000.

No estimate was received as to the extent of damage to American property which was included in the general total although it is known that there were no Americans among those killed.

A detailed report of American property damage is being compiled by J. H. Kelly, American consul at Damascus, at the instance of the state department on which to base a claim against the French government for reparations.

TWO INJURED IN STREET CAR ACCIDENT

Duluth, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Two persons were injured and 18 escaped unhurt when a Kenwood avenue street car left the tracks near the end of the line and overturned last night.

Mrs. A. S. O'Brien received a scalp wound and Walter Oppolzar was bruised and cut. The car was operated by one man.

LANDMARK IN FRONTENAC BURNED

Frontenac, Minn., Oct. 30.—(UP)—The Frontenac cash store landmark for thirty years, was burned to the ground today by fire which started from an overheated furnace. Residents devoted their efforts to preventing spread of the flames to other buildings. They worked in near zero temperature. Loss on the building was estimated at $15,000.

Question Man

Hurley, Wis.—Minneapolis authorities arrived here today to question Edward Murphy in connection with the robbery of the Minnetonka State bank at Excelsior recently. Five bandits obtained $15,000 and escaped in an automobile.

a larger scale, possibly extending about $1,000.

The secretary read a letter from the attorney general of Minnesota, in regard to visitors' automobile permits, in which it was stated that motorists from outside states are required to register in Minnesota within 10 days after arrival, receiving a permit to operate their cars in the state for a period of 60 days, but if they remain longer it is necessary to take out a regular automobile license the same as residents here are required to do. This matter was discussed at some length at the chamber, it being the opinion of many that such a law keeps tourists from enjoying the Minneapolis lakes, or limits their stay here, and so is unfair, both to the visitors and to the resort owners and business men.

The secretary read a communication from Mr. Start, of the firm of Harrison and Start, realtors, of Kansas City, Mo., which is making extensive improvements in the property at Gull lake. The letter concerned a number of suggestions for improved conditions in this section, especially as it affects tourists, lake levels, etc.

One of the suggestions made by Mr. Start was that the state fishing laws be amended to allow non-residents the same privileges as residents, without the payment of a high license fee. Another suggestion was that the matter of the fishway at the Gull lake dam be taken up with the game and fish department, and improvements made there.

Mr. Start asked that the control of the waters in Gull lake be placed under state control, instead of being under federal management as at present, that the waters in this chain of lake could be better handled, especially in charge of the game and fish department.

These matters and others outlined by Mr. Start were referred to the legislative committee, and in some cases nothing can be done until the next meeting of the state legislature.

A letter was read from Mayor George Leach, of Minneapolis, advising of a meeting of the Minneapolis river terminal commission to be held in that city at 8 o'clock on the evening of November 2nd, and asking the chamber to name a delegate to the meeting. No action was taken upon this matter.

The Fidelity and the Woolworth stores had been asked to take out memberships in the Chamber of Commerce, and a letter was read from the management of the first named, stating that the Fidelity stores are not allowed to join chambers of commerce because of the expense involved, the policy being to keep down such expenses that the customers may be given low price advantages.

The Woolworth store has taken membership in the Chamber in the past, but in a letter from that company it was stated that the manager of this part of the business was out of the city and nothing could be done until he returned. That letter was received several months ago, and nothing has been heard from the company's headquarters since.

George E. Lowe reported that the city had not installed lamp posts along the north side of Front street, and that it was felt such lighting was important. He was advised that this has been taken care of, and that the posts would probably be installed within the next month or six weeks, on Front street, from Fourth to Broadway.

W. C. Cobb praised the chef, Mr. Hall and the house committee for the excellent supper that had been served that evening, and felt that such meals should be repeated frequently, asking that the directors take up the matter of having one supper meeting per month.

G. S. Swanson complained about the mail service on the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific railway, stating that a letter which he posted on Sunday, addressed to a party in Aitkin, did not reach that person until Tuesday. It was explained that present business does not warrant the pouching of mail for points on the division on Sundays, and mail posted then is of necessity held until Monday before being sent out. With only two mail trains per day, such mail eastbound does not leave Brainerd until evening, and is not received by the addressee until the following day. If business warrants, a pouch will be prepared on Sundays, giving better service.

Dr. A. K. Cohen, who is interested in collecting funds to assist in repairing and preserving "Old Ironsides," stated that contributions from the school children of the city would not be sufficient to meet Brainerd's quota, and appealed to the citizens generally to assist in making up the required amount, by voluntary subscriptions. Each donor will receive a picture of the "Constitution" one of the very historic battleships of the American navy.

Three applications for membership were received and voted upon, the applicants being unanimously admitted to membership. They were John Stenberg, drygoods, Dr. C. E. Anderson, and Dr. A. A. Stenfeldt.

Orr, Minn.—An unidentified man of about 45 years old, was run down and killed by a Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific train a mile and a half north of here.

LOCAL HOSPITAL ON APPROVED LIST

St. Joseph's Hospital So Selected by American College of Surgeons

IN 8TH ANNUAL SURVEY

Fulfill Fundamental Requirements For Good Service to the Patient

St. Joseph's hospital, of Brainerd, is one of 40 such institutions in the state appearing on the approved list of the American College of Surgeons, and is the result of the eighth annual hospital standardization survey of 2,380 hospitals up to the first of October.

Of 61 hospitals in Minnesota included in this survey, 40 were approved, or 65.6 per cent, the same percentage which carried through the total of 2,380 institutions in the United States and Canada.

The hospitals whose names appear on the approved list are those recognized as fulfilling the fundamental requirements for good service to the patient, as assured through efficient staff organization, adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities, trained personnel, complete case records and a periodic checkup or medical audit of the clinical work of the hospital.

Dr. F. H. Martin, director general of the American College of Surgeons, states that this list of approved hospitals is of general interest, for by it, the patient can more intelligently and more safely choose a hospital and a physician when ill; the young woman with the ambition to become a nurse is assisted in her selection of a training school; the medical graduate eager for practical experience, seeks such a hospital for his internship, and federal, state and municipal organizations frequently consult the list in their selection of institutions when rendering financial assistance.

The American Railway Association has urged its 14,000 members to select for its patients so far as possible hospitals approved by the American College of Surgeons, and the U. S. army, navy, veterans bureau and public health service share enthusiastically in voicing approval of the hospitals listed by the College of Surgeons, says Dr. Martin.

St. Joseph's hospital feels a just pride in earning a place upon this list, and is working at all times to increase its already high standards.

EUROPEAN PURCHASES OVER TWO BILLION

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—European purchases of American goods this year will probably total $2,700,000,000, Julius Klein, director of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce, today told the convention of the National Association of Farm Equipment here today.

The outstanding topic in the world of international business is the recovery of Europe, Klein said.

While the United States will benefit by the increase in the buying power by its biggest customer, domestic men must also consider the increased cost in overseas trade, Klein said.

As European industries expand, grow in power and prosperity, the fight for the trade of Latin America, the far east and the other sections of the globe will become more bitter, he said. Nationalistic propaganda is another force American business men must face, he said. Added to this is the government aid extended by some nations to private industry in the world fight for trade, Klein pointed out.

"The only effective answer to such a program can be found through the achievement of admitted superiority on the part of our wares in quality or price or service," Klein declared. American investment capital abroad has increased from $2,000,000,000 to $9,000,000,000 in the past decade and this is another reason why American business men are doing their utmost to exploit trade opportunities abroad, Klein said.

PROSPERITY IN PROSPECT FOR NEXT 5 YEARS

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Prosperity is in prospect for the next five years, W. J. Hatanah, public utilities rate expert, declared today at the special Interstate Commerce commission hearings on the application of western railroads for a five per cent increase in freight rates.

The present price structure and possibly higher prices will rule for the next five years, he said. Hatanah made the statement while under cross examination by attorneys for shippers who are opposed to a rate increase.

Paul A. Walker, attorney from Oklahoma, and other attorneys declared that Hatanah's income had increased sufficiently to stand a higher freight rate. The increased income is nowhere near the figures submitted by Hatanah and other rate experts, the railroad declared. Hatanah insisted that he believed his figures were correct.

Phillip Benson, secretary of the Dime Savings bank of New York, next witness, was asked by Attorney General Herman L. Ekern of Wisconsin, why he advocated a higher rate for the western roads. Benson said he was a member of the Roosevelt reorganization committee of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad and was interested in anything that would help put the road back on its feet.

Benson then said that the reorganization committee believed the railroad would be back on its feet in 1930 and be able to pay some dividends. "If the road will do that under present rates, why do you ask for an increase in rates?" Ekern asked.

"Well, it will make recovery that much quicker."

SAYS PROSPERITY IS HERE

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—"The continuance of prosperity," was emphasized at the semi-annual meeting of the Robert Morris Associates, a national organization of credit men, in session here today.

"Savings on deposit are large, and the credit situation is sound," said Dr. David Friday, former president of the Michigan Agricultural college and an accountant of note.

Dr. Friday said the farmer had good purchasing power, labor was enjoying favorable employment conditions and the situation is helped by an active building program. Railroads and public utilities, he said, are expanding at a normal rate, manufacturing plants are enlarging and creating a demand for building and machinery and exports are large.

These items, Dr. Friday pointed out, mean that prosperity is here. It will continue for at least another year without interruption, he predicted.

UNDERLYING STRENGTH SHOWN

New York, Oct. 30.—Heavy selling, which broke out at yesterday's close was not followed up today. On the contrary, the forward movement was resumed in many sections of the list and the general market continued to display plenty of evidence of plentiful underlying strength.

Call money renewed at 5 per cent and maintained that level throughout the session. However, this slight hardening was recognized as the outcome of financial operations incident to the end of the month.

Substantial advances occurred in numerous representative issues including Atlantic Coast Line, Hudson Motors, Jordan, Dodge Brothers, Anaconda Copper, American Smelting and International Machine.

The market closed higher.
